Tennessee Pollution Prevention Partnership Conference 2002

Welcome ...

The Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation (TDEC) and the Tennessee Pollution Prevention (P2) Roundtable are very pleased to welcome you to the 2002 Planting P2 Conference. This event is a unique opportunity for representatives of industry, universities, environmental organizations, and government agencies to come together. Our goal is to learn more about state and federal environmental leadership programs, companies' success stories, the benefits and advantages of pollution prevention, and methods for improving environmental performance.

The conference features an awards ceremony for leaders in the Tennessee Pollution Prevention Partnership (TP3), a State of the Environment presentation by TDEC senior managers, and a keynote speech by a nationally recognized expert in pollution prevention, Cam Metcalf. The conference provides many structured and informal opportunities for networking. Consult with other companies about their successes in waste reduction and energy, water, and natural resource conservation. TP3 staff offer guidance in making the partnership work for your facility.

TDEC, through the Tennessee Pollution Prevention Partnership, is helping everyone in Tennessee do his or her part for our shared environment. TP3 is a membership network of households, schools, government agencies, organizations, businesses, and industries. Each group demonstrates through pollution prevention projects how to protect the environment, save money and resources, and improve the quality of life in our communities. The Tennessee Pollution Prevention Roundtable has worked closely with TDEC to establish the criteria for industry participation in TP3, and especially, to encourage more manufacturing facilities to pursue environmental excellence.

Join us at this 2002 Planting P2 Conference as we work together today and tomorrow to make all Tennessee industries models of environmental leadership for the nation!
